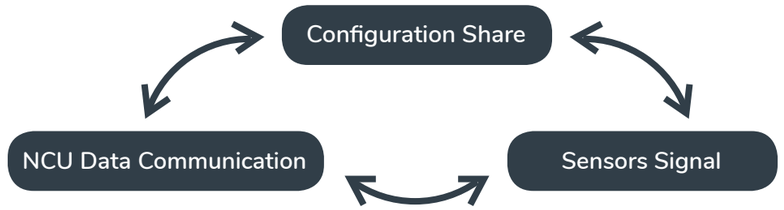
IOT v2.0: Embrace the Big Data

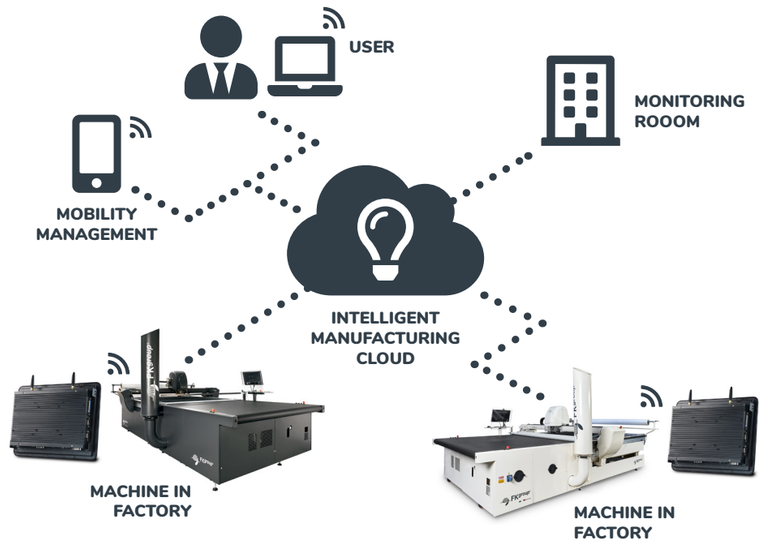
Data Acquisition

Through communication and the continuous mutual exchange of information between these three sets, it's possible to acquire all the necessary data.

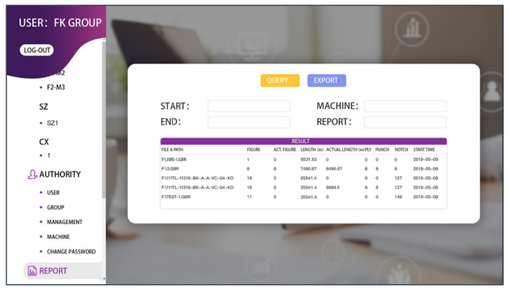


Main Data Architecture

Each machine is connected, thanks to the look-board display, to a dedicated cloud that can be accessed with various remote devices (e.g. PC, tablet, smartphone, etc....).

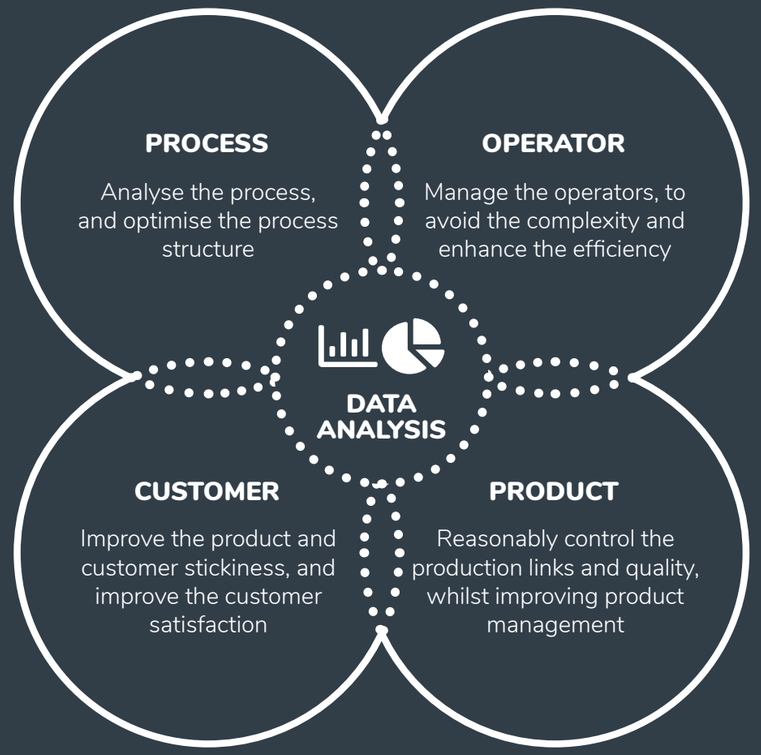


Cloud Interface



It is possible to manage the access level for each individual user and to export the reports.

IOT Advantages



Data Display and Cloud Interface

Thanks to the software interface, cutting information, efficiency analysis, machine status and maintenance information can be displayed in real time.
